

Everything New Orleans

Listen: 'American Routes' host Nick Spitzer discusses New Orleans' music recovery on 'All Things Considered'

Published: Wednesday, August 25, 2010, 9:15 AM Updated: Wednesday, August 25, 2010, 10:04 AM

By Dave Walker, The Times-Picayune

With a full two-hour "American Routes" K+5 anniversary episode scheduled to air in New Orleans at 6 p.m. Sunday (August 29) on WWNO FM-89.9, host Nick Spitzer took to "All Things Considered" on Tuesday (August 24) to preview the episode.

"Routes" run on 200-plus public-radio affiliates around the country. This week's episode is already streaming here.

Highlights of Spitzer's "ATC" appearance include checking in on the Soul Rebels Brass Band, Derrick Tabb's The Roots of Music program and a Preservation Hall-with-famous guests collaboration.

Listen below.

The Times-Picayune Archive

Derrick Tabb.

The NPR logo, consisting of the letters 'n', 'p', and 'r' in white on a black background.

MUSIC INTERVIEWS

The Music Of New Orleans, After The Storm

All Things Considered
Aug 24, 2010 | More on NPR.org

American Routes host Nick Spitzer spotlights an assortment of post-Katrina musical projects.

▶ ◀ ▶ ⏸ 0:00 ◀ ▶ ⏸

✉ Email   <> Embed   ⬇ Download   🔗 Get link